INDIAN SEAFARERS CREW CHANGE - SUCCESS OR FAILURE ???

We can now say with certainty, that each and every individual's way of life has been transformed by the Corona Pandemic.

Even during the strictest lock downs declared on land, the only major commercial activity continuing is that of ships plying across oceans of the world, with the most precious material on board – cargo of various kinds, needed by industries and the common man.

However, the ships can continue to serve the world only if serious attention is paid to Seafarers who need to be brought home from these ships and also those waiting to join. Contracts of those on board have been granted extensions with co-operation of Ministry of Shipping, Directorate General of Shipping, ship owners and ship managers, maritime associations and unions. Simultaneous they have played a most important role to ensure that crew changes have taken place at Indian ports and also brought from overseas in limited numbers, through chartered flights and Vande Bharat flights. However, all this creates hardships, challenges and also criticism.

The Maritime Union of India (MUI) along with The National Union of Seafarers of India (NUSI) will be holding an interaction on Tuesday, 21 July at 1500 hrs. on Facebook Live. (please see below invitation).
